Becoming a Conservation Agent

By Scott Corley, Conservation Agent

On April 1, a group of 17 individuals will begin a new career with the Missouri Department of Conservation as Conservation Agent Trainees. Although these Agent Trainees come from a variety of different backgrounds, they each share a common goal to enhance and protect the forest, fish and wildlife resources of Missouri. They will receive 26 weeks of intense training on a variety of subjects. The new recruits will be trained in forest, fish and wildlife resource law enforcement, resource management techniques, officer-safety techniques and a variety of skills necessary to conduct informational and educational programs.

To become a Conservation Agent, you must meet a variety of requirements. You must be at least 21 years of age and have a college degree in one of the following areas: wildlife, fisheries or natural resource management; wildlife conservation; biology or biological sciences; natural resource law enforcement; or criminal justice. The process to become a Conservation Agent can be very competitive. You can expect a large number of people to apply, ranging from 400 up to 1000 applicants, with 10-20 vacant positions to fill every couple of years. The majority of successful applicants not only have a college degree, but also have a variety of work experience in forest, fish and wildlife or other related fields. The Missouri Department of Conservation offers internships, volunteer opportunities and summer employment for college students interested in becoming a Conservation Agent.

Missouri Conservation Agent's duties vary with the time of year and the needs of the county the agent is assigned to. Conservation Agents are certified peace officers of Missouri and are responsible for enforcing the rules of the Wildlife Code of Missouri. Agents work many nights and most weekends and holidays—often under adverse weather conditions. The benefits, however, outweigh the challenges. They have many opportunities to meet interesting people, as well as perform an educational role in their community. Conservation Agents provide services to the public through educational programs and media presentations. They work with school groups by conducting hunter education classes and youth programs. They work with the media and write articles for local newspapers. Conservation Agents also assist landowners with habitat improvement contacts and wildlife damage complaints. The variety of duties and responsibilities Conservation Agents perform demands a high level of interest in not only conservation, but also the community in which they reside. If you interested in becoming a Conservation Agent, contact the Missouri Department of Conservation Central Office at (573) 751-4115 or log onto www.mdc.mo.gov and click on the “Jobs” tab.

1 Amphibian Night @ Forest 44

Friday 6:30 p.m. – 9 p.m.
(All Ages) Join us as MDC Herpetologist Jeff Briggler teaches about native amphibians and takes us on an exploratory hike. We will listen and record the frogs chorusing on the ponds of Forest 44. Learn to identify different species of frogs and their biology. Herpetologist: Jeff Briggler. (Reservations begin March 18.)

3 Animal Tracks: Be a Tracker!

Sunday 1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.
(All Ages) Learn to read tracks to figure out what kind of animals passed by and maybe even what they were up to! Increase awareness and understanding of the creatures that share the trails with you. Make a guidebook with prints of animal tracks. Naturalist: Jane Deschu. (Reservations begin March 21.)

9 Habitat Restoration Day!

Saturday 10 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
(Ages 7 & up) For years, the staff and volunteers at Rockwoods have worked to improve habitats for wildlife and plant diversity. We need your help to stop invasive species. Certain plant species have choked out native vegetation, leaving areas where native plant and animal communities are in trouble. Each year, return to Rockwoods and see the positive impact each one of us can make. Scouts, families and groups are encouraged to participate. Please bring gloves and dress for the weather. Lunch will be provided. (Reservations begin March 24.)

HOMESCHOOL

22 Earth Day Celebration

Friday 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
(All Ages) We all have a responsibility to care for the earth. Join us as we learn different ways to reduce, reuse and recycle. Each of us can make a difference in our stewardship of the earth; sometimes all we have to do is learn how. We'll play a "jeopardy" Earth Day game, and then try our hand at making a worm compost bin for the family. Naturalist: Anna-Lisa Tucker. (Reservations begin April 7.)

23 Scout Discovery Table: Poisonous & Venomous Things

Saturday 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.
(Scouts) Do you know the difference between "poisonous" and "venomous"? How many different venomous snakes are there in Missouri? Can you identify poison ivy? What spider has a fiddle on its back? Learn the answers to these questions and many more. Wolves: Outdoor Adventure Elective 18g; Webelos: Naturalist #6; Juniors: Wildlife #5; Plants and Animals #9. Naturalists: Sally Roberts & Ed Leutwiler. (No reservations necessary.)

23 Eggs-Actly!

Saturday 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
Deaf and Hearing-Impaired Family and Friends (Ages 5 & up) Eggs...what are they made of? What's inside them? How many kinds of animals hatch from them? Can you take the shell off a chicken egg without breaking it? Sound impossible? We'll show you how, and much more! Naturalist: Sheri Medlock. (Reservations begin April 8.)

29 Understanding Bats

Friday 7 p.m. – 8:30 p.m.
(All Ages) Come discover the myths and legends of the dark world of bats. You will have fun learning all about nature's "bug zappers"—unique and helpful animals. You will discover that bats are not the horrible creatures portrayed in the movies. Naturalist: Jean Favara. (Reservations begin April 15.)

HOMESCHOOL

30 Journaling about Nature

Saturday 10 a.m. – Noon
(Homeschoolers Ages 7-12) Get in touch with the world around you by keeping a nature journal. It's not as hard as you might think, and you may find hidden reservoirs of peaceful creativity lurking beneath your busy, harried life. Nature journaling is your path into exploration of the natural world around you. Whether you live on a busy city street or a quiet, suburban road, there are plenty of animals, plants and seasons to watch, sketch and write about. Naturalist: Glenda Myers. (Reservations begin April 15.)

801 Strodtman Rd., St. Louis, MO 63138 Office hours are Wednesday – Friday from 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. Saturday – Sunday from 8 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Interpretive services are available for those with hearing loss with 5 days notice. From I-270 north take the Riverview Drive exit (last Missouri exit); go north approximately 2.8 miles. Riverview Drive becomes Columbia Bottom Road at its intersection with Larimore Road. The entrance is on the right-hand side. Visit www.mdc.mo.gov/areas/areas/bottom/

6 Retiree River Ramble

Wednesday 9 a.m. – Noon
(Ages 60 & up) Enjoy a leisurely hike along with other seniors at a pace suited to this age group. This month we will be looking for the arrival of kingfishers and house wrens. The sounds of spring should be in the air and we will be listening for the bobwhite quail. Volunteer Naturalist: David Petree. (Reservations begin March 23.)

6 Aquatic Adventure

Wednesday 1:30 p.m. – 3 p.m.
(Ages 7-12) Are you ready to find out what's living in the slough? We will explore the slough to discover new inhabitants as many critters emerge for the spring. Frogs, turtles and aquatic insects are among the creatures that we may find. Come see what makes them unique and how they can indicate water quality. Participants should dress for a mess, including shoes that can get wet and muddy. Naturalist: Lisa Reid. (Reservations begin March 23.)

9 Birding for Beginners

Saturday 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
(Ages 3-6) Discover the wondrous world of bird watching through stories, songs, crafts and hiking. Create your own birding field guide and binoculars to use on our bird walk. In case of rain the "hike" will be indoors. Volunteer Naturalist: Andra Stanley. (Reservations begin March 25.)

9 Amphibian Night Hike

Saturday 7 p.m. – 8:30 p.m. & 8 p.m. – 9:30 p.m.
(All Ages & Scouts) Spring is coming! Just step outside and listen to the frogs singing in spring. Discover the amazing life cycle of frogs; become a member of our "frog band"; take a hike and listen to the amazing sounds of the wetlands. You can learn to identify several frogs and toads by their unique songs. Bring your flashlight and dress warmly as we explore the frog ponds. Volunteer Naturalist: Lena Dowers & Naturalist: Rhonda Anderson. (Reservations begin March 25.)

23 Celebrate Earth Day!

Saturday 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
(Ages 3-6) The earth is waking up! Come celebrate Earth Day with stories, crafts and games. You are never too old or too young to enjoy the wonders of our planet. Volunteer Naturalist: Kathy Schroeder. (Reservations begin April 8.)

23 Who Lives in a Rotten Log?

Saturday 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
(Ages 7-12) Take an up-close look at the weird-looking critters that live in the dark recesses of a rotten log. Discover the important role they play in the life cycle of a tree and find out how they benefit the whole forest. Volunteer Naturalist: Pat Behle. (Reservations begin April 8.)

Show-Me Missouri Fish Mobile Aquarium

Saturday, April 30
Sunday, May 1
10 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Back by popular demand! It’s the Show-Me Missouri Fish Mobile Aquarium at Powder Valley Conservation Nature Center on Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1. The Mobile Aquarium is 40 feet long, contains 3200 gallons of water and is used for fishing demonstrations and aquatic education.

Up to 25 different species of Missouri’s native fish will be on display. Come and see some of the more popular sport and game fish along with fish rarely seen by most people. The fish swim among rocks, logs and plants which lend a natural setting to an already fascinating exhibit. The Mobile Aquarium is a great way to hone your fish identification skills and view the curious adaptations of various species.

Fisheries biologists and technicians also demonstrate fishing tips and techniques from atop the Mobile Aquarium. They’ll discuss the ecology of fish and how seasonal behavior, distribution and habitats relate to recreational fishing.

Programs are 30 minutes in length and start at 10 a.m., 11 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Between demonstrations, Missouri Department of Conservation personnel will be on hand to answer questions and provide literature. We’ll also have the Virtual Fishing Simulator, casting lanes and craft activities for the kids from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. And to think, all this while the fish continue to entertain, teaching young and old alike how aquatic creatures move and live in their natural environment.

Book Donations Appreciated

Would you like to help Powder Valley improve its library? Consider donating a book or two. We are looking for books that relate to Missouri’s natural history—its fish, forests and wildlife. They should be new or no older than 20 years and in good condition. They can be adult or children’s books.

If the book you donate is new, we’ll be glad to give you credit for your donation with a bookplate inside the book. When donating the book, please attach a note with your name and address on it.
